Local Elks To Care For Departed Brothers' Graves

Eight New Members Initiated Into Lodge; To Supervise Carnival Stampede Week End.

Coleman Elks lodge held its regular meeting on Thursday evening, May 23, with about fifty members present.

It was unanimously agreed that the lodge would care for the graves of departed brothers in the local cemeteries with special care being given those whose relatives no longer reside in town.

It was also decided that the lodge would take charge of the two day carnival on behalf of the Board of Trade, proceeds from which will be funnelled into a special fund for improvement of the skating arena.

Eight new members were initiated into the lodge during the evening, an address of welcome being given them by Bro. W. Dutil, following the business session a very pleasant social evening was enjoyed.

PARALLEL PARKING WENT INTO EFFECT THIS MORNING

Printed display cards were posted on both sides of main street this morning warning motorists that henceforth they must park parallel. Only on Second street will angle parking be permitted. Motorists will have to take special precaution not to scratch and bump cars while manipulating their own car parallel to the curb. It will take a little practice before they can become experts at parallel parking.

A Canadian Cemetery in Holland

June 1 is the date set for the opening of the Memorial Fund campaign. The amount required to complete the Cenotaph and other work in connection with it is set at $5,000. This may seem like a healthy sum of money to some, but considering the size of the town it is a small enough amount, for the purpose for which it is required.

The plain facts of the matter have been set down above and in previous issues of the Journal, so that all should be acquainted with the project—what it means—what we hope to erect—and how much it will cost, and what is expected from each citizen to bring the campaign to a successful conclusion.

The committee hesitates to make an inspirational appeal at this time, the desirability of having a worthy memorial in honor of our fallen has been expressed by all sections of our community, and the time for action has arrived. Let us address this matter in a manner worthy of those who did not return—let us conduct ourselves in the same unselfish manner which activated those stalwart young heroes who once waved 'good-bye' to us, their fellow citizens, never to return.

Above is a picture of a Canadian Cemetery in Holland, where thousands of Canadian dead are buried. Others of our sons are buried in other cemeteries, in other lands, some in unknown graves.

This is our chance to bring about a spiritual reunion of our Coleman boys who are thus laid to rest in far-flung battle fields, a spiritual re-union of heroes, of both world wars, a re-union under a common monument in our memorial park. A memorial where the names of Coleman's sons will forever proudly stand enshrined before the eyes of all who gaze upon it. A memorial that will bear a message to all who follow after, for from those names the message will ring out "We are not afraid to die—that ye who live may be free."

The headquarters of the committee is the Canadian Legion, the chairman of the committee, Dan Daly. A canvass will be made, but in order to save the committee as much work as possible, and in order to save time, please mail or leave your donation at the Canadian Legion in an envelope addressed to Mr. Dan Daly, chairman, Memorial Park committee, Canadian Legion, Coleman. The fund will be registered under the War Charities Act, so that donations will be deductible from income for income tax purposes. This campaign is being directed by the young veterans of Coleman, let us all get behind them, let us show them our thankfulness that they returned safely by joining with them to honor the comrades they left behind.

In the Morning and at the Setting of the Sun, We will Remember Them.

LETHE'DGE PYTHIAN SISTERS VISITED COLEMAN TEMPLE LAST WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday, May 22, Coleman Pythian Sisters celebrated Mother's Day with a social evening following the business session. Twelve members, of the Lethe'dge Temple attended to help celebrate the occasion.

On behalf of the Coleman Temple, Sister Ethel Hill extended a cordial welcome to the visitors.

The social evening started with whist, followed by the raffle of a mystery box. One of the highlights of the evening was the singing by Sister Kostelnik of the favorite song, "Mother," accompanied by Sister Evelyn Hopkins on the piano.

The supper table was tastefully decorated with colored candles representing the Temple's colors. Bouquets of snapdragons and carnations were distributed on the table, the centre bouquet being decorated with colored ribbons which stretched part way along the table.

Mrs. Robert Morris will travel to Edmonton the early part of next week where she will represent Minerva Chapter of the Eastern Star at the provincial convention. She will be accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Dave Young, of Bellevue.

School Board Refuses Teachers' Appeal For Increased Wages; May Discuss Subject Next Year

Board Claims That 1946 Assessment Has Already Been Set and Requisitions Sent Out.

During the past few weeks Coleman School Board and a wage schedule committee representing the local school teachers have met in conference to discuss a new wage agreement which had been drafted by the teachers.

The Board studied the new wage schedule and went as far as meeting the Blairmore school board on the matter, the latter board having had the same schedule presented by their teachers.

Chairman George Evans, in a statement to The Journal on Tuesday evening, stated that as far as his board was concerned no action could be taken this year on the new wage schedule. The budget for 1946 had been drafted and requisitions had already been sent out to the town council and provincial government. To grant the wage boosts asked would mean that an additional $11,000 would have to be added to the school budget. While his board was not prepared to act on the schedule this year it was quite possible that something could be done at the beginning of 1947 prior to the budget being drafted.

Here is the present wage schedule and that sought by the teachers in the proposed new schedule:

At the present time Elementary teachers start at $1,080 and are given an annual $50 raise until the maximum of $1,300 has been reached. The Intermediate teachers at present start with $1,200 and are given a yearly raise of $50 until the $1,400 maximum has been reached, plus living bonus of $140 per year.

The new schedule seeks to combine both Elementary and Intermediate teachers. It asks that wages start at $1,300 and the same yearly raise be granted until a maximum of $1,800 has been reached.

The present High School schedule calls for teachers starting at $1,600 and receiving a $50 raise per year until the maximum of $1,800 has been reached, plus living bonus of $140 per year.

The new schedule seeks to have High School teachers' start at $1,700 and increase to the maximum of $2,400.

The Principal's salary is at present $2,550, plus $140 living bonus. The new schedule seeks to raise it to $2,800.

The present schedule for Vice-Principal calls for him to start at $1,800, with a boost of $100 the second year, to reach the maximum of $1,900. The new schedule seeks to have the starting salary at $1,900, and be increased yearly until the maximum of $2,600 is reached.

Other principals' salaries call for the present payment of $1,395 to start, increasing so much per year until the maximum of $1,470 has been reached. The new schedule seeks a straight $2,000 salary.

In addition to the specific salary schedule it is asked that teachers possessing university degrees be granted an additional $200 per year.

Teachers in Elementary or Intermediate grades having an extra certificate in use be granted $30 per option.

Light And Water Case Adjudged Until Fall

The evidence lasted two and a half hours. Coleman Light & Water Co. did not have its case ready and as a result did not present any evidence to the chairman.

The case was adjourned indefinitely and will probably be heard in the Fall.

Coleman Lions club will supervise the National Clothing Drive in Coleman and have nominated Maurice Cooke to head the campaign committee.

Mr. Cooke is already active on his new job lining up a warehouse, workers, trucks, cartons, large amounts of rope, etc. He plans to have everything in readiness for the opening gun.

Mr. Cooke directs a special appeal to the citizens of Coleman and district to start now putting old yet usable clothing aside for the drive. The need for clothing in Europe to day is just as urgent as it was last year when a National Clothing Drive was sponsored.

From week to week Mr. Cooke will use The Journal columns to list garments that are most in demand and to give a report on how he plans to zone the town.

Canada's Wheat Acreage

IN VIEW OF THE PRESENT critical world food shortage, this year's harvest takes on the greatest importance, for upon its success or failure depend many thousands of human lives. So far, Canada's record in meeting commitments for sending food abroad has been satisfactory, but in meeting these commitments the usual food reserves, and especially reserves of wheat have been considerably depleted. A great deal will depend on the results of Canada's grain harvest this year, and interest in crop prospects will be much greater than usual, both here and abroad. Crop failures last year in Europe and some other parts of the world are partly responsible for the present desperate food situation and any factor which may contribute to a poor harvest this year will be viewed with concern in all quarters.

Prairie Acreage To Be Increased

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics recently issued a report on the probable acreage to be sown in wheat in Canada this year. The report indicated that approximately 3,000,000 more acres of wheat will be harvested this year than in 1946. This would raise in the whole of Canada from 23,414,100, which was the number of acres sown last year, to 26,414,100. These figures were compiled from information received from farmers before the end of April and it was pointed out in the report that due to local conditions in some parts of the country there might be a slight rise or fall in the actual amount of land needed. The expected increase in wheat acreage in the Prairie Provinces was given as 3,265,000, which was greater than the net increase for the whole of Canada. This was explained by the fact that there is a concurrent decrease of 230,000 acres in fall seeding in Ontario.

Almost Equals Record Year

The report further draws attention to the fact that should the intended increase be realized Canada's wheat acreage in 1946 will be almost equal to that of 1939 when 26,756,500 acres were sown. It would, however, still be well below the record set in 1940 when Canadian farmers sowed 28,738,200 acres in wheat. Indications in regard to other grain crops show that barley acreage for the whole of Canada will be down eight per cent from last year, while flax will be down about one per cent. Summer-fallow acreage is expected to be 18,724,000 as compared to 19,859,000 last year. These figures show that if conditions are favourable Canada should have sufficient wheat to continue to contribute generously to the world food supply. Because agriculture is probably Canada's greatest basic industry the results of the harvest have always been a subject of wide interest, but from the point of view of human needs the 1946 crop may be the most important one in our history.

Playing Chief Role

Lord Dowding Led R.A.F. Crews In Decisive Battle Of Britain
It was Air Chief Marshal Lord Dowding, who attained his 64th birthday recently, who played the chief role, and a dramatic one it was, in the most crucial of all the battles of the last war. Lord Dowding approved and inspired the design of the British eight-machine-gun fighters that were, under Providence, the vital weapons which enabled that gallant few to whom so many owe so much to defeat the Luftwaffe's mass attack on Great Britain, a London correspondent recalls. Not only so, but he thought out the strategy, planned the tactics, and trained the crews, and led them in the decisive Battle of Britain. His affection for those R.A.F. lads who manned those Spitfires and Hurricanes, and who shot down the invaders over English meadows, fighting against tremendous odds with indomitable pluck and incredible skill, passes all description.

United Europe

Mr. Churchill's Plea Is Not Likely To Be Answered

Mr. Churchill's plea for a "United States of Europe"—a doctrine preached by the late Aristide Briand—is not likely to be answered in our time. Man has come a long way from the age of tribal chief; he has not yet reached the stage where races, nationalities, castes and creeds can be merged into a political whole.

The United States is often pointed to as an example of what is possible in the way of unity. But union in the United States—let alone in the rest of the world—has not been achieved. It is preserved at the cost of a frightful civil war—was achieved through the powerful cement of a common language, through people with basic beliefs in common institutions. There is no such cement in Europe, with its multiplicity of languages, its racial animosities rooted in centuries, its conflicting political ideas.

Mr. Churchill's ideal does credit to his heart; preached by one with a deep sense of history, it also challenges thought. Yet it is not possible to look over the world today, with all its wrath, and hold that the ideal will be realized in our day. A century hence, perhaps, it will be different, with men understanding that only by forgetting things that came out of the cave can civilization go on; for the moment the best of unity within our reach would seem to be the United Nations, purely though that institution is showing itself to be—St. Catherine's Standard.

Valuable Pictures

Taken To U.S. For Safe Keeping Asked To Be Returned

Ninety-five art authorities have urged President Truman and acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson to send back 200 art masterpieces brought to the United States from Germany last December.

A resolution, made public by Juliana Force, director of the Whitney Museum, and Fred Mortimer Clapp, director of the Frick collection, said:

"Two hundred important valuable pictures have been removed from Germany and sent to this country on the still unestablished ground of ensuring their safety. . . . This action cannot be justified on the technical, political or moral grounds.

Coffee, chocolate and tea were among the first products advertised in newspapers.

HEALTH SANATORIA

Atomic Ovens Could Be Made Usable According To Scientists

The atomic ovens, or piles as scientists call them, because their bulk is mainly a pile of graphite bricks, are likely to become health sanatoria.

All that is necessary to make their rays available for treatment of disease is to cut parts through the massive concrete walls shielding the piles at Hanford, Washington, or to arrange similar openings in the piles of smaller dimensions at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Ardennes, Ill., and elsewhere.

The methods are told in the bulletin of the atomic scientists of Chicago. The Hanford piles are great cubes of graphite surrounded and covered by walls of concrete about three feet thick. These walls confine radio-active rays equal to hundreds of tons of radium, and neutron rays equal to thousands of great cyclotrons.

The rays issuing through a port cut in a wall could be fatal to anyone standing at the port just as were the flash radio-active rays that killed Japanese at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Possibly the rays issuing through a single port would be more intense than those that have been available in all the hospitals of the world, if all could be placed together.

This true death ray would be made harmless by what the radiologists call filters. These are plates of steel, aluminum, lead and other materials that filter the energies down to the dosage that physicians would want to use.

Many patients could be treated at one time, since the quantity and intensity of rays is sufficient to fill many channels, one for each person. In this way, for the first time, the rays of radium and X-rays would become really cheap. And for the first time there would be a large supply of neutron rays, not given off by radium.

For Man And Beast

Vitamin Pills Snatched By Husky Dog On Muskox Expedition

Mukluk, the lean, hungry husky who gobbled 10,000 vitamin pills during the recent Muskox Arctic expedition, is doing fine "thank you" and so far the only effect of his debauch is a new luxuriance to his gray and white fur.

A defence headquarters spokesman gave the first official version as to how Mukluk got next to the vitamin pills.

He said a snowmobile overturned near Baker Lake on the outward stretch of the long 3,100-mile trek. The 1,000 fish oil vitamin pills—emergency ration for the five-man crew of the vehicle—spilled into the snow.

Mukluk's keen nostrils picked up the fish odor and in less time than he takes to tell if he devoured the lot.

When the snowmobile was righted and before it continued the journey, the crew were given a new supply of vitamin pills—shared out by the crews of other snowmobiles.

Most of her wardrobe was originally her mother's and has been altered to suit her.

Theatre For Children

Instituted In Britain And Appears To Be A Success

A good deal has been heard recently about special plays for children. In Britain a children's theatre has been instituted, and so far promises to be a great success. The scheme has the blessing of the London County Council Education Committee, and the plays are produced by the Glyndebourne Company, who before the war ran a flourishing little opera company at Glyndebourne, about 60 miles from London. The first production, about three months ago, was a dramatization of Great Expectations, by Charles Dickens. This was shown twice daily, at 10 a.m. and at 2 p.m. at Tynbee Hall in the East End of London for a period of six weeks; now the company is on tour through Britain with it for a season of 15 weeks. In the words of its managing director, the company provides the show and education authorities provide the audience.

Answer To Last Week's Puzzle

NEW IDEAS OF WORLD STRATEGY MAY MAKE COMPLETE CHANGE IN THE EMPIRE DEFENCE SYSTEM

LONDON.—New ideas of world strategy looking towards a complete reorientation of the commonwealth defence system have taken shape at the dominion conference just ended in London.

Empire leaders are believed to have thrashed out suggestions for a decentralized system of defence control with widespread dispersal of industrial resources.

Official details are top secret, but hints from the British and dominion military and economic experts indicate that three overriding considerations govern the new outlook of commonwealth statesmen and chiefs of staff.

1. The Mediterranean can no longer remain a "British lake".
2. India, land of 350,000,000 people and once a bastion of the British empire system, may have to be ruled out of future calculations.

3. Air and atomic warfare developments have changed completely even the notion of defence acquired during the Second Great War.

Modern air and sea warfare, it is argued, have made the inland Mediterranean sea a potential death trap for military movements. The bitter struggle by the British navy to keep open its supply line to Malta was proof of it during the war. Egypt is within striking distance from any part of Europe.

An atomic bomb could reduce the Suez canal to a swamp and any life-line through the canal to India would be cut. The traditional British Mediterranean strong points of Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus and Crete now appear obsolete to many experts.

It is suggested that Gibraltar, Malta, Suez and Bombay may give way to commonwealth defence points facing east and north in West Africa, East Africa, Ceylon and Singapore, and from there tying up with the Australian and Pacific defence system.

To back up the new strategy, British chiefs of staff are also understood to have submitted ideas for the complete decentralization of commonwealth resources.

They maintain that the British Isles, as an industrial outpost, provide too vulnerable a target in atomic and air warfare. The new plan would provide for the creation of three new "commonwealth arsenals," the western arsenal in Canada, the southern one of South Africa and the Pacific arsenal in Australia.

AFTER LONG SERVICE

CALGARY.—Charles H. Frost, who started his apprenticeship in the printing business 51 years ago, when linotype machines were a new-fangled invention and hand-setting a stick of six point required keen eyes and nimble fingers, has retired after 35 years' service in the Herald's composing room. For a number of years he has served as advertising foreman.

RELIEVE FUEL SHORTAGE

OTTAWA.—Canada's fuel shortage has been relieved by approximately 20,000 tons of coal, quantities of fuel oil, cordwood and domestic charcoal, made available by the closing of army and air force stations and industrial war plants throughout the Dominion. War Assets Corporation announced.

IMMIGRATION BELIEVED TO BE ONE OF THE TOP PROBLEMS THAT WILL HAVE TO BE FACED

OTTAWA.—The special senate committee launched its investigation into immigration, one of the top problems which the government eventually will have to face. The recommendations this committee makes and the evidence it develops will be of keen interest in political circles.

The wide difference of opinion across the country as to how far Canada should go in making it easy for persons from other lands to settle in Canada is well recognized and once the shipping situation is relieved there will be strong pressure on the government, on the one hand, to encourage immigrants, and on the other, to keep up the bars.

The bars are high at present, the outcome of unemployment during depression. They remained high during the war years. Now thousands of letters are pouring into the immigration branch from Canadians urging permission to bring relatives into the country.

Senator T. A. Crerar (L. Manitoba), a member of the committee, brings wide experience to the problem because for 10 years he was the member of the cabinet responsible for immigration.

A. L. Joliffe, director of immigration, was asked to provide the committee with figures on the move-

WILL BE CHANGED

British Admiralty Announces Some Improvements For Future Ships

LONDON.—The admiralty has announced several improvements to be incorporated in Britain's future ships, including those presently under construction, which are calculated to still criticism of living conditions in the Royal Navy, aggravated by wartime contact with better-equipped United States navy vessels.

Among improvements announced are: "Decorative schemes to give ships a more homely appearance than is possible with grey and white paint;" improved mess deck layout and furniture; better ventilation; cold storage for fruits and vegetables; reading rooms and movie theatres where space permits, and modern laundries.

NATIONAL PARK

Riding Mountain National Park To Be Enlarged

OTTAWA.—Riding Mountain National Park will be larger by 642 acres when a bill given third reading in the house is finally proclaimed.

Under the bill 662.3 acres of land now owned by the government will be brought within the confines of the park. The land is located immediately in front of the entrance to the park and is being incorporated as park land in order to protect the entrance to the park.

The same bill provides for 320 acres being withdrawn from Riding Mountain National Park. The land is suitable for agricultural purposes and will go under provincial control, natural resources minister J. A. Glen told the house.

Skirling Bagpipes At The British Embassy In Washington

EDINBURGH.—There'll be skirling pipes on state occasions in the future at the British embassy in Washington.

When Lord Inverchapel, successor to the Earl of Halifax as British ambassador to the United States, sails for New York on board the Queen Mary his retainers will include a young member of the clan MacLean, employed in the custom of many highland lairds as piper.

His lordship, the former Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, was himself a piper in his youth.

DRUG ADDICTS

Number Has Declined Very Considerably, It Is Stated

OTTAWA.—The number of addicts to the narcotic marihuana has declined "very considerably", Health Minister Claxton said in the commons.

Production of the weed also has declined, said Mr. Claxton, speaking during clause-by-clause study of a bill amending the Opium and Narcotic Drug act. The bill later was given third and final reading.

Cyclists In Bermuda Take No Notice Of "Stop" Signs

HAMILTON, Bermuda.—The disdain of Bermuda cyclists for simple traffic ordinances since automobiles were allowed on island roads for the first time Jan. 1, has become a growing headache for the colony's bobbies.

In the last few days, more than 100 cyclists have been brought into court to pay fines of 75 cents for failing to halt at "stop" signs.

FAST TRIP

ITS SECOND START

Television Will Again Be Used On Programs Of BBC

LONDON.—Television makes its second start in Britain June 1, when BBC programs, suspended for nearly seven years, will be resumed from Alexandra Palace.

Next day the victory parade will march across home screens as did the coronation procession in May, 1937, and set owners in the Greater London and home counties area, if their pre-war receivers are overhauled in time, will see pictures slightly better than these of nine years ago.

Canadian Legion Served Men Both At Home And Abroad

QUEBEC.—The Canadian Legion war services reported to the biennial legion convention that it had done a $28,606,456 wartime business in catering to the wants of Canadian servicemen at home and abroad.

Its canteen service became equal to a system of chain stores, its hotel and club operations "assumed the proportions of a large chain of hotels," its educational services surpassed the enrolment of all Canadian universities combined, and its motion picture service exceeded that of any single commercial theatre circuit in Canada.

Its staff reached a peak of 1,848 last year.

PLANS TO RETIRE

Justice Minister St. Laurent May Return To Law Practice

OTTAWA.—Justice Minister St. Laurent said in an interview he plans to retire from public life shortly and return to the law practice he left in Quebec in 1941 to take the justice department portfolio for the war period.

Mr. St. Laurent indicated that his retirement might come after the current session of parliament when such matters as redistribution of representation in the commons and changes in the judges' salaries act have been cleaned up.

LONDON.—The hungry of two vast continents have seen millions of acres to food, but floods, drought and insect plagues in many countries already are dipping into the vital crops to which they look to avert famine.

Europe's larger now is virtually bare and the emergency committee for Europe has said that about 140,000,000 persons are living on less than 2,000 calories a day—two-thirds what they need for health.

Continental husbandmen—working feverishly despite acute shortages of seed, fertilizer, manpower and machinery—have planted battle-tired land.

Any widespread crop failure, such that caused by droughts that last year swept India, South Africa and the Balkans, likely would reduce millions to starvation.

The plight of Asiatics is the worst. Millions of Chinese in the central provinces are devouring grass, weeds, tree bark and clay to stay alive.

In India, an estimated 230,000,000 are not getting enough to eat. Although it is considered too early to venture accurate predictions of European crop prospects, an Associated Press survey showed:

Hungary: Experiencing what the food ministry termed its worst drought in a century. Wheat and rye have been damaged severely. In many areas it has been too dry to plant corn and potatoes. Food authorities already are saying that the harvests probably will be so meagre the country will require outside aid for another 12 months.

Austria, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland—Crops suffering from lack of rain.

Portugal—Some damage from spring floods.

Sardinia—Swarms of locusts, so great that masses of them crushed under trains stopped rail traffic, laid crops waste on this big island.

Elsewhere in Europe spring rains have favored growing conditions.

Russia has taken the lead in returning battlefields to cultivation, reporting that already 11,000,000 niyre acres have been planted this spring than in 1945.

Italy has reclaimed 200,000 of the 700,000 acres of its farmland devastated by war. France and the low countries have expanded their tilled acreages greatly. Holland made an especially impressive comeback by returning to use all but a few thousand acres of her extensive war-torn areas.

Britain has plowed up many wartime airfields and on landing grounds still in operation grain and other crops are planted between runways and in corners. Stunted moors and hunting lands undisturbed since Saxon days are producing their share of food.

In Germany three women workers to every man are digging on estates and in small plots.

Poland is farming twice as much land as a year ago but still has 6,000,000 acres idle for lack of machines and seed.

Canada To Have Most Powerful Atomic Plant

TORONTO.—Dr. J. D. Cockcroft of Cambridge university told fellows of the Royal Society of Canada that Canada will have the most powerful atomic research instrument in the world this summer when a new high power heavy water pile is put into operation at the Chalk River atomic research plant. The instrument will facilitate production of radium substitutes on a large scale.

Dr. Cockcroft, engaged by the Canadian government at the Chalk River plant, said the high power pile will lead to many new types of physical experiments. "It will also be possible to produce on a large scale labelled and radioactive atoms for biological, medical and chemical research," he said. "A small scale production of plutonium will be possible and with this material it will be possible to build small compact piles and to study power generation."

"The most serious problem of atomic energy results from the possibility of fissile material being used for bombs," he said. He referred to the Lillenthal report as "being the best contribution so far to the problem of control."

At present a low power heavy water pile is in operation at the Chalk River plant which uses many tons of heavy water and uranium.

A small-scale production of plutonium will be feasible and with this material small compact piles may be built to study power generation. Dr. Cockcroft said of the Chalk River plant: "The atomic pile would make possible production of substitutes for radium, such as radie cobalt, on a large scale."

We are a fortunate people. We walk the middle road.

Through our Government's wise measures of control, we have, by resisting the temptation to rush after luxuries, been able to enjoy them in moderation. We have, by keeping necessities at the top of our buying lists, kept the prices of both necessities and luxuries at the bottom.

Hardly another nation in the world today can point to so fine a record.

Yes, we are a fortunate people because we walk the middle road—the road of moderation in all things—in our thinking, in our actions and in our pleasures.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

The fisheries laboratory at Lowestoft, England, has borrowed a vessel from the Admiralty to carry out research in the southern North Sea.

Seven veteran Sunday School members at Liverpool, England, aged between 88 and 90, have been awarded medals for long and faithful service.

Saving of 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons of coal by housewives pulled Britain through the winter, D. R. Grenfell, a former mines minister, said.

The South African government in a wheat conservation measure has prohibited the serving of bread in any public place between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery says he will publish his book, "Normandy to the Baltic," but not immediately, because "it's far too early yet."

When the first strawberries of the season appeared on the London market they priced at three pence (about six cents) a berry, the supply disappeared within an hour.

A club where visitors from the dominions and colonies may stay in London is to be provided by the Victoria League as a memorial to servicemen who fell during the war.

Canada, the Dominion Republic, Iceland and the United Kingdom have completed their contributions to UNRRA. Prime Minister Mackenzie King informed the commons recently.

The British Government announced a reduction in the weight of the standard loaf of bread from two pounds to 1½ pounds, without any alteration in price. This, it was stated, would save 12½ per cent. of the flour used in its manufacture.

Dr. J. W. C. Ward, Bishop of London, has dedicated a memorial plaque in the Chapel of St. George's Hospital to the memory of the Duke of Kent, killed in an air crash in 1942. The Duke was president of the hospital from 1923 to 1943.

Friends Coming Back

Statuses Are Gradually Being Restored To Pedestals In London

One distinguished evacuee to return to Town after five years or so in the country is King Charles I, says P. O'D., in Toronto Saturday Night. With truly royal calm and courage he went through the first year of the blitz under a shelter of sandbags, but in 1941 he was taken off to the Earl of Rosebery's estate in the Midlands. Now he is home again, though not yet on his pedestal in Trafalgar Square, from which he used to gaze so thoughtfully down Whitehall, remembering old, far-off, unhappy things as we staunch Jacobites like to believe.

It would be too much to say that the return was in the nature of a royal progress. Horse and rider were securely lashed on a lorry-trailer, and towed to town by order of the Ministry of Works to be cleaned and tidied before being put back in position. Also the pedestal must be tested, and, if necessary, strengthened, for it took some very stiff jolts from the bumps and clunks by, and we really can't have anything more happen to King Charles here.

No one can say that the statue of King Charles is a very impressive piece of monumental art, but the dumpy little man on the dumpy little horse has dignity and a quaint sort of charm. Everyone, I think, will rejoice at its return to the familiar site in the whirlpool of traffic that roars about its base.

Made Good Critic

Princess Elizabeth Thinks Many Children's Books Are Too Dull

LONDON. Princess Elizabeth turned literary critic for the benefit of modern children who she said, were being treated "as small adults" by authors of children's books.

In the course of a tour of inspection at the National Book League's Exhibition of children's books, the Princess commented to an official "how very advanced and difficult they (the books) were for the children."

She remarked on the good condition of the used books in the displaying adding "I think it's because they (the children) did not look at them at all."

The Heiress Presumptive and Princess Margaret Rose evidenced particular interest in books in the collection which had belonged to their father, the King, and their grandmother, Queen Mary.

"I wonder if granny read them all," Princess Elizabeth remarked. One book belonging to their father was the only volume in the show written in Welsh. It was inscribed "Presented to Albert from Papa."

PRISON REFORM

Crime Increases, But The Royal Commission's Report Lies Dormant

To get a clear picture of the crime situation in Canada it must be understood that there has been a steady increase for many years past.

If you will study the following figures, which are official, and then think of them as if they were your business results, you would be justified in buying yourself a new hat and perhaps a larger one.

Well, take a good look at them. First the growth in non-indictable offenses, which in most cases fine would suffice: 1903—43,922; 1942—581,364.

Now look at the indictable offenses which resulted in a man being sent to the penitentiary for two years or more: 1903—603; 1923—1,272; 1933—2,569; 1939—4,055.

Then there are those who went to prison for anything up to two years all but a day. 1903—4,545; 1923—8,541; 1933—22,913; 1938—32,231. The 1943 Canada Year Book says 64,168 admitted to our penitentiaries, prisons and reformatories in the year 1942.

There is the picture, a tragic one with no small in it, and the only hat to be bought is a long one shaped like a cone.

The Prisoners' Aid and Welfare Association of Montreal made a number of recommendations to Ottawa suggesting very definite ways and means whereby this deadly increase in crime might be curbed, but our political leaders could not see any popular appeal in the matter, one very highly placed member, who shall be a nameless, said to Mr. R. Gordon Burgoyne, President of the Prisoners' Aid and Welfare Association of Montreal, "We did not invite them to break the law or go to prison, so I don't see what can be done about it."

The unrest among the prisoners came to a head in several places, with the result that there was rioting and burnings. Mr. Burgoyne was asked to go to Kingston and St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiaries during the riots, which he did. Afterwards he interviewed some of the ring leaders personally, sending his findings to Ottawa. Public opinion was stirred, but soon the situation was averted, except by those who were trying to improve conditions. These people in various centres of Canada, and especially in Montreal asked for a thorough investigation and the present government set up a Royal Commission to study the whole penal system of Canada, under the chairmanship of the Hon. Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault of Montreal with Mr. Craig, K.C., of Winnipeg, and Mr. J. C. McRuer, K.C., of Toronto. They visited every Province of Canada, travelled to Britain and studied their penal system there, then to five other European countries, closing their studies by investigating some of the American institutions.

They did a splendid job for which Canadians should be grateful, and in the spring of 1938 presented their findings to the House of Commons in the form of a 418 page report.

The report was passed by the Federal Parliament that year, but was blocked by the Senate, and the following year it was again presented and passed by both Houses. Since then it has been in the dog-house or somewhere else, for the splendid findings and recommendations have not been put into effect, except regarding the training of penitentiary guards. Twelve men under ex-Warden Colonel W. B. Megloughlin, were sent to England to be trained under their system.

The Minister of Justice was pressed to put some of these reform measures into use, but did not. Then came the war, and we are "where we were" 25 years ago in the matter of prison reform. The requests of prison welfare workers from coast to coast have been ignored, for after all what does an annual turnover of 70,000 men and women in and out of our prisons matter? When will our leaders realize that it means a great deal in our Canadian community life to have these 70,000 returned to society better citizens than when they entered as a result of deliberate efforts to help them.

It is not a great disappointment to the three Commissioners all the time knowing that the chance to help prisoners while in the penitentiaries grows less. This Report condemns in no uncertain terms many things that are still practiced and makes valuable suggestions and some very good fundamental recommendations.

Northern Survey

Look For Hydro Power Sites And Mining Fields

Canada's vast and only partly-explored northland, scene of the recently-concluded Muskox expedition, will be the scene this summer of a concentrated survey by aerial camera.

An 11-plane R.C.A.F. photographic unit will undertake aerial mapping of 1,000,000 square miles of the barren, windswept land for "purposes of defence" and to spot new hydro power sites, possible mining fields and gather data on the little-known courses of waterheds.

Much of the 3,100-mile route covered by the combined army-R.C.A.F. Muskox trek will be mapped and among other objectives will be definite location of many geographical features of the sub-Arctic and Arctic.

He Was Told

Story Of The Resolute Woman And The Station Agent

"When does the next train that stops at Manchester leave here?" asked the resolute widow at the booking-office window.

"You'll have to wait four hours, ma'am."

"I think not."

"Well, maybe you know better than I do, ma'am."

"Yes, sir, and maybe you know better than I do whether I am expecting to travel on that train myself or whether I am inquiring for a relative that's visiting at my house and wanted me to call here and ask about it to save her the trouble, because she's packing up her things and expects to take that train herself and not me; and she'll have to do the waiting and not me; and maybe you think it's your business to stand there and try to instruct people about things they know as well as you do, if not better, and perhaps you'll learn some day to give people civil answers when they ask you civil questions; young man, my opinion is you won't!"

With a gasp: "Yes, ma'am."

Things Being Made A Bit Easier For British Housewife

Effective Sept. 15, the British housewife will be able to change her retailer for all rationed foods except milk and for the first time since the outbreak of war, she will be able to tell the shopkeeper what she really thinks of him.

The fact that the rationing law prevented women from changing dealers for such commodities as meat, eggs and fats, had led to much dissatisfaction. Women who quarrelled with their dealers or who thought they were not getting a fair deal were unable to trade elsewhere.

Many housewives adopted a manner of civility, which they did not really feel, toward their retailers in the hope that service would not get worse.

The order announced by Food Minister Sir Ben Smith effects regulations for meat, eggs, fats, cheese, bacon, sugar and preserves. Housewife may change retailers for any number of these items at any time, provided there is an eight-week interval after the last previous change.

Just Surplus Stock

Australia Has Gas Masks For Sale But No Buyers

Do you want to buy a gas mask complete with eye pieces and filter canister and a comfy, cushioned, cheek-to-cheek fitting guaranteed? If you're just the person that the Australian Commonwealth Disposals Commissioner is looking for. Recently he offered 4,500,000 choice varieties of civilian type gas masks at public auction. Sales were to the highest bidder but so far he has not received one bid. The respirators, declared surplus stock, were manufactured during the war when enemy air attacks on Australian cities seemed a daily possibility. The Commissioner has made inquiries overseas but his investigations have shown that other countries are not only overloaded with similar surplus material but are not looking forward to any immediate prospects of having to use gasmasks. The Disposals Commissioner is now considering a competition which might unearth an inventive genius who can suggest some way of converting them to a useful purpose or who can discover some article that can be manufactured from their parts.

Should Outlaw War

Says Civilization Could Not Survive An Atomic War

Alert military men realize that western civilization could not survive an atomic war, that any effort would be worth while that outlawed war and provided collective security and justice to great and small. Selfless statesmen are rare. Premier Attlee, who has devoted his life to the welfare of working people, may qualify as such. The world needs many selfless statesmen. It needs also great common-sense that will reject shortsighted nationalistic policies in favor of a program that would benefit humanity as a whole, including their own country. The noblest and wisest of men could not forget themselves to better purpose than in an endeavor to substitute neighborliness for lawless tyranny. — Toronto Star.

CASUALTIES OF CIVILIZATION

Man is probably the most adaptable of animals. His astonishing ability to adjust to his environment or bend to his needs enables him to thrive in tropic heat or arctic cold. But he is not so successful in his control of the inner world of the emotions.

A thought, a word, a gesture, can create a flurry of emotion that instantaneously involves unseen but complex bodily changes. Digestion may be arrested, pulse rate and blood pressure raised, the distribution and chemical constitution of the blood markedly altered, and the rate of metabolism increased. In an instant a thrifter has become a striver. These reactions, of course, prepare man for fight or flight and are therefore physiologically sound; but if the emotion persists the bodily changes persist also, and in time may become irreversible.

The most damaging emotion is anxiety. And, unfortunately, it is exactly the emotion most frequently aroused in our society, and the one most likely to persist. As man has been compelled to interact with more and more people on an emotionally competitive basis his chances to indict and receive emotional hurt have mounted. Industrial specialization and social stratification have meant that other human beings have become an increasingly important source of frustration and anxiety.

Anxiety creates havoc in those who are susceptible by constitution or training and produces such diseases of civilization as high blood pressure and peptic ulcer. There is little doubt that the emotional stresses of modern life kill hundreds of people in this country each year and damage the health, happiness and efficiency of thousands.

We have gone far towards mastering or modifying our natural environment, but we have gained little mastery over the inner life of the mind. Here is a double challenge we must not ignore; a challenge to help our children to develop rational control of their emotions from their earliest years and to develop, stage by stage, a social and economic structure that will be scientifically adapted to man's emotional needs. — Health Education Journal.

SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITS

Savings on deposit in Canada's chartered banks at March 31, amounted to $3,170,150,000 against $3,077,852,000 on Feb. 28 and $2,724,892,000 on March 31, 1945, the chartered bank statements for March showed.

WOMEN LIKE THIS FOUGHT— Black-veiled Moslem women, like the one shown here, mauled British policemen who tried to break up a parade of several thousand Arabs demonstrating against the Museum in 1929. The Duke sent it to Christie's to be put up at auction. It was withdrawn when the bidding closed at twenty-nine thousand guineas. Many fine and interesting things have been acquired for the British and Victoria and Albert Museums out of Mr. Valentin's bequest, and it is understood the Vase has been purchased with the balance.

A Valuable Exhibit

British Museum Has Purchased The World Famous Portland Vase

Without any publicity-trumpeting the British Museum, once more partially re-opened to the public after being closed during the war, has bought the world-famous Portland Vase. This lovely work of Roman art was found in the 16th century near Rome in a marble sarcophagus, and deposited with the Museum in 1810 by its possessor, the Duke of Portland, on loan. A footnote to the exhibit at Bloomsbury quietly states that last year it was purchased by the Museum trustees out of funds bequeathed by the late J. R. Valentin, who died some years ago. It is not stated what was paid for the Vase, but presumably it must have been considerable, because when in 1929 the Duke sent it to Christie's to be put up at auction it was withdrawn when the bidding closed at twenty-nine thousand guineas. Many fine and interesting things have been acquired for the British and Victoria and Albert Museums out of Mr. Valentin's bequest, and it is understood the Vase has been purchased with the balance.

Women Drivers

Traffic Survey In Manitoba Reveals They Have Fewer Accidents

In Manitoba the ever-popular assumption "that's a woman driver for you" can be quietly discarded. A traffic survey revealed women vindicated of responsibility for the majority of traffic mishaps.

In the last year 43 men were involved in fatal accidents while women were only connected with two. Male drivers were blamed for 1,327 non-fatal accidents and females mixed up in 37 cases.
